Prayer of Miracles at Chanukah Candle Lighting

A prayer written by Rabbi Rachamim Bitton

and Devorah Hadassah Liebermann, mother of Ma'ayan

Creator of the World, I humbly come before You at this auspicious time of candle lighting, to beseech You with my heart's deepest yearning.

Av haRachamim, Master of Compassion, Compassionate Father,

I truly believe that You wish to grant me only revealed good even though I do not merit so. In fact, I believe that You only do good, even though sometimes it is hard to see this through the pain.

Would you help me please, oh Dear Father, to align myself with the true nature of Your tremendous kindness hidden within the concealed good so that all my pain is dissolved and transformed into true joy and happiness.

הַפְּכֵת מִסְפָּדִי לְמַחֹל לִי פִתְחֵת שְׂקִי וּתְאַזְרֵנִי שִׂמְחָה:

You have turned my lament into dancing for me; You freed me from my sackcloth and girded me with joy.

Would You please help me, my Dearest Father and Creator, to accept all that is, all that has been, and all that will be, with complete acceptance, peace, and even with love and joy. Would you help me experience Your unconditional love present in every moment in time and through every experience in life.

I humbly and wholeheartedly beseech you, oh Dearest One, with my intention now to connect to the Ohr haGanuz (hidden in the light) of the candles. I ask that I be illuminated by this light, on whichever spiritual plane I currently occupy. Even if I thought I was distant from You, I realize now there is no distance from You. Your light penetrates and permeates all of existence. You are the space containing all space. All of space and time is saturated by your infinite omnipresence. I am opening up my heart and allowing myself to experience and connect with Your great compassion and unconditional love.

You are the Source of all life and light and limitless possibility.

Nature and miracles are equal to you. All of nature is a miracle and all miracles are as easy as nature is for you.

HaShem, please open my heart and eyes to experience and see all the miracles I need and wish for, manifested for me in sweet and tangible ways. I have completely let go and released my control and dependence on nature and I am relying on Your infinite love and kindness. I have completely opened my heart to the light of your decision.

I'm trusting You and I'm relying on You to decide the salvation and to help me and all of us involved, in the sweetest revealed ways.

I'm trusting You to heal Ma'ayan bas Devorah Hadassah (and/or insert your loved one's name).

I'm depending on You to allow her tikkun to be fulfilled in this life in a revealed, sweet and tangible way.

I have released attachment to any outcome and I'm wholeheartedly relying and trusting in You to decide the result. You are the creator of all the universe and You are the Decider of all that happens. You can surely bring about any tikkun that was intended to come through the concealed good to come about through sweet and revealed good.

Please dissolve any thoughts and feelings of doubt and worry and transform my heart to be completely healed and empowered with clarity and peaceful certainty in your salvation.

I claim this result in advance with complete reliance on You, my beloved Father and Creator, I thank You already now for this salvation and for all the kindness and miracles You have shown me and you are constantly manifesting for me and which You will create and reveal to me again now.

Help me direct my thoughts to You and to wholeheartedly rely on Your compassion so that the din/judgement (of my loved one [say name]) will be revealed as tangible good in this life. I know there is only You, only kindness and unconditional love. Ain od Milvado.
